Hartford, May 17, 1792.

TO B E L E T,

A Convenient house with a good barn, and about thirty acres of land, with a good orchard, in which will make about seventy barrels of Cyder in a year; it is well covered with fruit trees of all kinds, lying on the main road about three miles east of Farmington Meetinghouse, a beautiful situation for a tradesman or a farmer. For further particulars apply to Farmington, May 19. OLIVER WOODRUFF.

THAT humbly and ugly large dapple grey JACK, plump twelve hands high, called the GUARDOQUI, stands at the subscribers stable near the Landing, to bear stock at the usual price—Either to contract for the Mules or for the benefit of those that are simple enough to raise Mules themselves, by paying for the use of said Jack.—Also, a few very handsome Jacks for sale on good terms for the seller, if possible. Also that big likely Spanish beautiful horse called JIM CRACK—Contracts to be made at the same time, and place of abode—As to this horses pedigree he has not any; but many that are not good judges, guess the stock raised from this horse will be better than the best.

FREDERICK BULL.

Hartford, May 21, 1792.

TAKEN up by the subscriber, a sorrel MARE, 8 or 10 years old, 14 hands high, large white spot in the face, one white eye, and four white feet; the owner is desired to pay charges, and take her away.
